

Seamless Online Project and Document Management Solutions

In competitive times like these, we'll help you save time, money and reduce risk with the most comprehensive document management solution created specifically for the AEC industry by McGraw-Hill Construction and ReproMAX. With Project Document Manager (PDM), you'll be able to take control of the thousands of documents generated from the design & development phase to close out – all on a secure desktop application. The system is designed to make sure all documents are efficiently captured, organized, distributed and archived for the life of the building.

Interoperability Across the Entire Project Lifecycle

Design & Development

Pre-Construction

Construction

Close-Out

From design and development, to pre-construction, construction and close-out, your needs start with document creation, then estimating, document distribution, bid management and finally project management. With PDM's flexible "open architecture" technology, it allows for connectivity and communication with all project management systems you currently use. You can also integrate any project content from the McGraw-Hill Construction Network onto your PDM desktop to create an unprecedented interoperability environment.

Make interoperability a reality.

Manage the thousands of documents generated for your project online. Keep all your project partners informed on your own secure desktop.

Count on Project Document Manager to:

- Upload or scan all documents on your own secure desktop (including version control) for plans, specs, addenda, bid packages, RFI's, submittals
- Organize and route documents electronically to any project member
- Manage and organize your contacts by project, construction code, or any other attribute. Organize them into easy to manage distribution lists
- Manage bids. Setup, organize and monitor online. Review status. Send out invitations to bid. View and manage all responses.
- Pre-qualify subs with a sophisticated system that allows you to easily setup prequalification applications and distribute them to companies
- Automatically send out notifications for addenda, ITB's or invitation to pre-qualify
- Markup or comment on documents – on or offline
- Access all information from any remote location
- Easily integrates with leading project management systems
- Closeout your project electronically
- Create an archive of your documents

Make interoperability a reality and control the thousands of documents needed to complete your project on time, on budget and with fewer hassles.

Ask for more details or call 866-239-4261.